The Guides to German Records Microfilmed at Alexandria, Va. constitute a series of finding aids describing National Archives microfilm that reproduces seized records of German central, regional, and local government agencies, and of military commands and units, as well as of the Nazi Party, its formations, affiliated associations, and supervised organizations. The records described in the Guides were created generally during the period from 1920 to 1945.

The series was initiated by the Microfilming Project of the Committee for the Study of War Documents of the American Historical Association in cooperation with the National Archives and the Department of the Army. With the termination of AHA participation in July 1963, the National Archives assumed sole responsibility for the reproduction of records and the preparation of Guides.

This Guide is one of many in the series describing the records of the German Army field commands which have been arranged by unit and filmed in discrete microcopies according to their military echelon as follows: Army Groups (Microcopy T-311), Armies (T-312), Panzer Armies (T-313), Corps (T-314), Divisions (T-315), and Rear Areas, Occupied Territories, and Others (T-501).

Guide No. 61 (designated Part VI of the projected seven Guides concerning records of corps--Parts I-V being Guides 46, 55, and 58 through 60) describes the contents of 300 rolls of Microcopy No. T-314 reproducing records of the XLI. - LI. Armeekorps. These records include material on the campaigns in western Europe in 1940 and in 1944, the Balkan campaign in 1941, the campaign against the Soviet Union from 1941 to 1945, and the campaign in Italy from 1943 to 1945. Also included are records covering occupation duty in Poland in 1940 and 1941 and in France from 1940 to 1942.

The provenance to which each record item is attributed is the unit headquarters that created it (i.e., kept it on file), although a large proportion of the items had in fact already been retired to depositories of the Heeresarchiv Potsdam. There accession numbers were assigned and stamped or written on the covers in the order received, and the records were then cataloged by unit in the so-called "Potsdam Catalog." By the time the records reached the United States, they were in rough arrangement by unit. The National Archives has retained this system inherited from its various American predecessor organizations, taking advantage of the circumstance that the original Potsdam catalogs were acquired along with the seized field command records. The AHA and National Archives also followed this arrangement in their joint and separate microfilm projects; however, some items were filmed out of sequence because of subsequent declassification or the discovery of previously mislaid or temporarily unavailable material, which accounts for the occasional break in continuity of roll numbers in the Guides. Record items not yet retired to the Heeresarchiv depositories at the time of capture were assigned accession numbers above 75,000 by American custodians in extension of the original Potsdam numbering scheme.

Considerable information on the fate of Germany's military archives during World War II, including documentation of efforts to reconstruct records destroyed in several wartime fires, may be found in the files of the Chef des Heeresarchivs, OKH, filmed as Microcopy T-78, Rolls 1-38 and described in Guide No. 12 of this series.

The records of these corps have been filmed selectively, with emphasis on the war journals (Kriegstagebücher) and activity reports (Tätigkeitsberichte) and their annexes (Anlagen) of the Operations (Ia) and Intelligence (Ic) staff sections, wherever they are available. Some records of the Supply, Personnel, Administrative, Medical, and Veterinary and other staff sections assigned to corps headquarters were included, particularly for those units whose operations and intelligence files were incomplete or missing. Map annexes (Kartenanlagen) consisting exclusively of large maps difficult to put on microfilm were generally omitted; maps interspersed among and integrated with the textual records were filmed in several overlapping sections, which, along with the loss of color markings, detracts considerably from their value and ease of use.

A unit history precedes the file item listing for each corps. These histories are a revised and expanded form of the shorter unit histories filmed at the beginning of every roll reproducing the records of each unit. The unit histories are based on information found in the records, in the Potsdam catalogs, and on contemporary German daily situation maps, supplementing or correcting the brief histories given in the Order of Battle of the German Army, War Department, Washington, March 1945. A data card describing each filmed record item has been filmed immediately preceding the folder it describes, and the cards for all folders on one roll of film are again filmed as a finding aid at the beginning of that roll. The information contained on these cards was used as a reference in compiling descriptive entries for the Guide, but considerable revision was undertaken because so many of these descriptions were prepared hastily to maintain pace with filming and restitution schedules.

The term "Roll" in the Guide refers to the sequence of the film; "1st Frame" gives the frame number of the first page of the folder; "Item No." is the identification symbol on the original folder. The "Item" provides (a) the abbreviation of the staff section that originated the document, (b) the title appearing on the folder cover, and (c) additional information providing a general description of the contents. The inclusive dates of the file item are given under a "Date" column.

The original records, filmed and unfiled, have been returned to the Federal Republic of Germany for deposit in the Bundesarchiv-Militärarchiv in Freiburg. The master negatives of Microcopy T-314 have been deposited with the Publications Sales Branch, National Archives, Washington, D.C. 20408, from which copies of specific rolls may be purchased. Reference copies may be consulted in the microfilm reading room of the National Archives.

The descriptions in this Guide were prepared by Anton F. Grassl, Charles F. Gordon, George Wagner, Ignaz Ernst, Richard Bauer, and Johanna M. Wagner under the supervision of Donald E. Spencer.

XLI. Panzerkorps (XLI Panzer Corps)

The XLI. Armeekorps was formed in February 1940 in Wehrkreis IV, Breslau, and transferred to Limburg in preparation for Operation "Gelb" (invasion of Luxembourg, Holland, and Belgium). On May 10, 1940, the Corps invaded the Low Countries and then participated in offensive engagements from St. Quentin to Besancon via Bethune, Rethel, Bar-le-Duc, and Chaumont. By June 23, 1940, it had moved to La Rochelle. In March 1941 the Corps was transferred to Kecskemet, Hungary, in preparation for the invasion of Yugoslavia. During April 1941 it took part in the conquest of Yugoslavia. Upon completion of this campaign the Corps returned to the Kecskemet area and was then transferred to East Prussia in preparation for Operation "Barbarossa" (invasion of Russia). On June 22, 1941 it invaded Lithuania from the Memel area and advanced through the Baltic States to the Leningrad front. In October 1941 the Corps was transferred to the central sector where it advanced toward Moscow via Vyazma, Bryansk, and Kalinin to the Moscow-Volga Canal. In December 1941 the Corps withdrew to the Gzhatsk, Zubtsov, and Rzhev areas. During 1942 it participated in defensive engagements in the Zubtsov, Smolensk, Bryansk, Kozelsk, Zhizdra, Bely, Nikitinka, and Lomonosovo areas. On July 7, 1942, the Corps was redesignated XLI. Panzerkorps. On the same date Panzerkorps Harpe was formed from components of the XLI. Panzerkorps with the mission of preventing a breakthrough of encircled Russian forces at Bely; it was disbanded on July 14. During January 1943 it took part in antipartisan action in the Nikitinka, Yartsevo, Vyazma, and Dukhovshchina areas and in February it participated in Operation "Büffel" (withdrawal movements in the Rzhev-Vyazma area). On February 27, 1943, Korps Rothkirch was formed from parts of the XLI. Panzerkorps staff and from the 57., 255., and 332. Infanterie-Divisionen. Korps Rothkirch was then transferred from Bely to Romny via Orsha, Gomel, and Bakhmach for an offensive in the Lebedin-Sumy area. On March 8 it became subordinate to the LII. Korps. In March 1943 the Corps took part in defensive engagements in the Smolensk, Kromy, and Bryansk areas. During April it was transferred to the Orel area and participated in defensive operations in the Sevsk, Trubchersk, and Ponyri areas. In July it prepared for and participated in Operation "Zitadelle" (offensive in the Kursk area). Upon completion of Operation "Zitadelle" Gruppe Harpe, composed of Gruppe Greiner and the XII., XLI., LV., and LVI. Korps, was formed with the mission of defending German positions against Russian counteroffensives in the Kirov, Pochunok, Mstislavl, Roslavl, and Khislavichi areas until October 2, 1943. The Corps participated in defensive engagements from the Chausy-Slavgorod area to the Bobruisk area from October 1943 through March 1944. [According to information obtained from the Potsdam Catalog remnants of the LIIII. Armeekorps were redesignated Gen. Kdo. XLI. Pz. K. z.b.V. (XLI Panzer Corps for Special Employment) on August 13, 1944. The XLI. Korps was under the command of General der Panzertruppe Hans Reinhardt, Feb 14, 1940 - Oct 5, 1941 and General der Panzertruppe Josef Harpe, Jan 15, 1942 - Nov 4, 1943.]

The XLVIII. Armeekorps was formed in the spring of 1940. It participated in the western campaign and in July 1940 was in the Rouen area. In March 1941 the Corps was transferred to the Tomaszow area in Poland, where it prepared for the Russian campaign. On June 22, 1941, the Corps began its offensive across the Bug River and advanced to the Bialystok (Belostok)-Slonim area and across the Berezina River. It then advanced to Bryansk via Bobruisk, Zhlobin, Gomel, and Mglin. The Corps took part in diversionary engagements southward via Klinty, Berezna, and Chernigov to assist in the capture of Kiev, as ordered by Hitler. After the completion of this mission it returned to the central sector. During October 1941 the Corps defended the Roslavl area against Timoshenko's army offensive and then advanced again toward Moscow, capturing Tula. In December 1941 the Corps withdrew to winter positions in the Kaluga and Ugra River areas, in February 1942 to the Yukhnov area, and later to the Vyazma area. In the summer of 1942 it participated in attacks on Kirov and Mosalsk and mopping-up action in the Dorogobuzh area. During the fall and winter of 1942 the Corps took part in defensive operations in the Ressa River sector and in the "Hubertus" positions from Kirov to Vyazma. In January 1943 it was transferred to Nevel and participated in defensive engagements and partisan warfare in the Velikiye Luki, Novosokolniki, and Pustoshka areas. In March 1944 the Corps was transferred to the Narva front, subordinate to Armeegruppe Narva, where it took part in defensive engagements south of the Narva-Rakvere line and along the Estonian coast, and finally to Birzhai in Lithuania. In October 1944 the Corps was relieved by the L. AK and the VI. SS Korps and was transferred to Valdemarpils.

The XLIV. Armeekorps was activated in Wehrkreis XVII, Vienna, in March 1940. In April it was transferred by road march to Charleville via Dresden, Jena, Kassel, and St. Vith. During the latter part of May 1940 the Corps participated in offensive engagements from Charleville to Chateauroux via St. Quentin, Laon, Soissons, Meaux, Fontainebleau, Orleans, and Vierzon. In July 1940 it was transferred to Radom, Poland, where it served as an occupation force and prepared for Operation Barbarossa (invasion of Russia). On June 22, 1941, it invaded Russia in the southern sector and by December had advanced to the Slavyansk area via Lutsk, Rovno, Berdichev, Belaya Tserkov, Verkhne-Dneprovsk, and Lozovaya. During the winter and spring of 1942 it took part in defensive operations in the Slavyansk and Izyum areas. In June 1942 the Corps participated in Operations "Fridericus 1 und 2" (offensives in the Izyum, Kupyansk, and Kharkov areas). During July it crossed the Donets River in the Krasny-Liman area, advanced toward the Don River in the Starobelsk area, then turned southward and crossed the Don River in the Chakhty area, and finally advanced to Krasnodar. From September 1942 to June 1943 the Corps took part in defensive operations in the area south of the Kuban River to the Maikop area. From January 5 to February 12, 1943, the Corps was known as Gruppe de Angelis. In July 1943 it withdrew across the Strait of Kerch into the Crimea and to the Ukraine, where it participated in the defense of Kherson. In the autumn of 1943 it withdrew to defensive positions along the Dnieper River. The Corps was under the command of General Koch, 1940-41 and Gen.d.Art. Maximilian de Angelis, Jan 26, 1942 - Nov 22, 1943. [According to the contemporary daily situation maps of H. Gr. Südukraine, most elements of the XLIV. Armeekorps (as well as of the XXX. and LII. AK, also assigned to AOK 6) were surrounded and captured or destroyed on the east bank of the Prut River due east of Husi, Rumania, in late August 1944. There were, however, neither among the seized records nor among the accessions listed in the Potsdam Catalog any records of the XLIV. AK dated later than December 31, 1943.]

This unit was formed on November 25, 1940, as Generalkommando (mot) XLVII. Armeekorps and on June 11, 1941, was redesignated the XLVII. Panzerkorps. In May 1941 it was transferred from Torgau via Kottbus, Breslau, Kreuzburg, and Warsaw to Siedlce. The Corps assembled in the Zyrardow, Mazowiecki, and Siedlce area in preparation for Operation "Barbarossa" (invasion of Russia). On June 22, 1941, it entered Russia in the central sector and advanced to Smolensk via Brest, Pruzhany, Slonim, Gorodishche, Minsk, Borisov, and Orsha. The Corps then participated in offensive engagements in the Yelnya, Dorogobuzh, Dukhovshchina, Spas Demensk, Roslavl, Mglin, Bryansk, Desna River, Glukhov, Sevsk, Lokot, Karachev, Bolkhov, Belev, Fatezh, Kromy, Orel, Novosil, Mtsensk, and Plavsk areas to Tula. In January 1942 it withdrew to the Vytebet' and Rosseta River areas and in March of 1942 took part in a counteroffensive against the Russian 61st Army in the Vesniny and Klinty area. From April to June the Corps participated in the withdrawal to and defense of the Zhizdra area, in Operation "Vogelsang" (mopping-up operation in the Dyatkovo area) and in preparations for Operation "Kreml" (attack on Moscow). From July 1942 to February 1943 it took part in defensive engagements and anti-partisan operations in the Zhizdra, Kirov, Dyatkovo, Lyudinovo, Lovat, Shigry, and Dubrovka areas. On February 10, 1943, Korpskommando Korps Scheele was formed to take over the Corps sector and the Corps was transferred to the Kromy area, where it was known as Korps Fatezh until February 15, 1943. From February to June 1943 it participated in defensive engagements in the Kromy, Lokot, Suponevo, and Bryansk areas. The Corps records for the latter half of 1943 were destroyed. In early 1944 it was transferred to the southern sector and participated in the withdrawal movements across the Ingul River at Kirovograd, across the Bug River near Pervomaisk, and across the Dniester River in the Orgeyev area. In April 1944 it withdrew to Bessarabia and Moldavia. On May 12 the Corps was transferred from Bacau, Rumania, to the Oberbefehlshaber West sector in France. No Corps records for the period May 13 - Aug 30, 1944, were found among the records in the custody of the National Archives. It participated in withdrawal movements from Nancy to the Eifel area from September to December 1944 and then in the Ardennes offensive in the Monschau and Bastogne areas.
